

Stability analysis for neural networks with synaptic delays.

Romain Veltz
(Inria, France)

In these lectures, I will introduce a simple way to study rigorously a class of delayed differential equations which is relevant for neural networks for synaptic delays. In particular, we will study the nonlinear stability of equilibrium, and, if time permits, the existence of a center manifold.